SIDELIGHTS ON THE OPA MEETING IN POMPANO

On Tuesday of this week 300 growers, packers and distributors of Florida gathered on the State Market platform in Pompano to give testimony to members of the OPA in order that their grievances could arrive at fair selling prices on perishable vegetables.

It was an interesting meeting. Geoffrey Baker, chairman of the price committee of the food price division of the Office of Price Administration, was in charge of the meeting. He conducted it in a manner which brought out much interesting testimony.

Nathan Mayo, state commissioner of agriculture, was among those present. He addressed the gathering and stated that he was opposed to price ceilings on perishable vegetables. "However," Mr. Mayo said, "if we are to have price ceilings let's give these OPA men all information possible in order that they may set a fair ceiling."

Billy Wilson, state director of markets, was the chap who started the meeting on its way. In his usual infatigable manner he made several introductions before turning the meeting over to Mr. Baker.

Congressman Pat Cannon and Senator Claude Pepper were other notables present. After all testimony was in, around 6 o'clock in the afternoon Mr. Baker called on these two gentlemen for remarks.

Senator Pepper pulled the gathering and found the major portion of those present were in favor of importing Nassau labor to assist in harvesting the spring bean crops in South Florida.

Congressman Cannon was strongly in favor of putting the labor we have to work. His remarks were pointed and he minced no words when he said that every man at home owed it to his country to work now and until the war is over. He also said in no uncertain terms that he was not in favor of labor organizations going into farm sections and organizing labor during this emergency.

L. M. Rhodes, state marketing commissioner with office at Jacksonville, gave the audience facts and figures which showed Florida to be one of the outstanding agricultural producing sections of the nation.

State Senator Johnny Beacham was also present for the meeting. Chas. Dishop, United States Marshal with office in Miami, was another prominent visitor at the meeting. W. J. Steed, the Washington Representative of the Florida Citrus Commission, was at the meeting and spent most of his time renewing acquaintances.

Mr. Baker of the OPA, when introduced by Mr. Wilson, brought smiles to the faces of growers when he said: "Although we are a bunch of Bureaucrats, we do know your problems in a general way."

Bill Stantch, a member of the fresh fruit and vegetable division of the OPA, assisted Mr. Baker in conducting the meeting. Phil Alsworth, a member of the Food Products Division of the United States Department of Agriculture, was another assistant of Mr. Baker.

It was the first meeting of the kind I had ever attended. I figured it was time well spent to enjoy the manner in which the meeting was conducted and the business-like manner in which South Florida growers presented their case to the OPA committee.

I was particularly delighted with the fact that the cold drink stand on the huge market platform had plenty of Coca-Cola for everybody all day long.

Blanding Short On Coffee and Butter; Waste Is Cut Down

OWI Says Camp Is Conserving Food Wherever It Is Possible

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., March 18.—The state Office of War Information, checking into the food situation at Camp Blanding, has reported that the Army is having its rationing headaches just as the housewife and that tales of waste of food at the camp are way off the mark.

For instance, during February Blanding's soldiers got less than half a pound of butter apiece, only a quarter of the amount needed, according to the official records of Camp Blanding, W. G. H. Godwin, purchasing officer.

Only one-third of the beef requirements could be filled, there is only one cup of coffee per man per day, and there hasn't been any tea for so long they have almost forgotten the taste. There is no bacon on the roster for March. Plenty of fresh vegetables are available through buying stations located all over the country, and only a minimum of processed goods is bought.

NO WASTE
Three common types of food wastes were covered in the OWI survey and all were found to be under control at Camp Blanding.

First was reckless ordering by mess sergeants — many people think that with numerous soldiers going on leaves that many meals would be wasted. The mess sergeant must be asked for 24 hours in advance and the mess sergeant knows at least 12 hours in advance how many of his men will be absent, the OWI said. The quartermaster corps, to which the mess sergeant predares his request for supplies, keeps a check on the requirements. Court martial cases have been known to arise from yields to temptation and sells surplus Army food.

CLEAN PLATES
Along the same line is the rumor that the Army, in order to be sure every man has enough, plans the meals on a basis of excess portions and the less hearty eaters just can't put it all away. Not only does the inspection of the mess after mess disprove that, reported the OWI, but the meals are carefully planned by the subsistence branch of the supply division and checked by the medical department with an eye to nutritional value and proper quantities.

Whatever unused food is left over is turned into some new dish the next day.

As for the discarded leftovers — if the level in the garbage can mounts too high, the school yard is inches the mess sergeant is called in for some heavy explaining.

All Groups Will Aid Sewing Room

At a meeting of the Pahokee Chapter, Order of Eastern Star, last Thursday night, it was announced that a joint sponsorship of the Pahokee Red Cross sewing room was being planned by the women's organization of the community and OES had been invited to participate in the sponsorship. Mrs. Dorothy Graham, warden, named Mrs. Iva Snyder as chairperson of the new sewing room project. Plans were discussed for honoring Mrs. Mae Belle Horman of Lake Worth, grand instructor of the District 7, who will be the guest of the chapter at its March 25th meeting. Mrs. Arthur Lee Maynard was named in charge of the project at that meeting, replacing Mrs. Helen Alpaugh who will.

POSTPONE MEETING

The meeting of the Pahokee Home Demonstration Club, scheduled to be held at the home of Mrs. M. B. Bell on Thursday night, March 18, was postponed because of the practice basketball until the evening of March 24 at 8:30 o'clock. The meeting will open at 8:30 o'clock, one-half hour later than usual.

The Editor Isn't A Mind Reader

This Editor isn't a mind reader. This statement is made because it shows folks wonder at times "why" the Editor in the paper "A" couple of weeks ago, some neighborly city and set sail upon the sea of matrimony without breathing a word to anyone about it. Several weeks later they'll howl "because it wasn't in the paper."

In other cases folks in these parts will have visitors. They never think of picking up the phone and calling 3651 out, they howl because it "wasn't in the paper." After all, the Editor would like to have ALL these items for print, but he isn't a mind reader.

So my friend, the next time you get married or the next time you have visitors and would like to know the world to know about it—just stop your phone and call 3651 out. The Editor will be glad to at least a part of it.

Film Programs For C. P. P.-T. A.

The Canal Point P.-T. A. has scheduled a series of film programs for the remainder of the school term. The program consists of one film each month for the benefit of the public. These programs consist of educational, war, and recreational films.

The program next week consists of a film on the life of the American soldier. The program is free to the parents and adults of the community.

The last program, March 12, was a most interesting and instructive film of pictures of the war. Many parents took advantage of this program which was quite instructive on the present war effort, and on America's initiative. The program was held at the home of Mrs. W. P. Jernigan.

The program next week consists of a film on the life of the American soldier. The program is free to the parents and adults of the community.

"Ever-Since Eden" is a great picture, a Hollywood dramatization of the glorious human race, incidents along the path of the tomato, the world's most discussed vegetable. An historical film, it is educational and also entertaining. It is a picture of the tomato, during a campaign against Moutonism, discovers the tomato, likes it and orders them for Spain.

New Room Mothers Named For P.-T. A.

The Canal Point Parent-Teacher Association held its last meeting on February 18, with its president, Mrs. W. P. Jernigan presiding, appointed new room mothers to serve the school during the second semester. The following room-mothers were invited to serve in this capacity: 1st Grade: Mrs. J. P. Platt, and Mrs. Wm. McClinton; 2nd Grade: Mrs. Chas. W. Kemmer and Mrs. C. L. Bryant; 3rd Grade: Mrs. F. H. O'Connell, Mrs. A. Q. Howell; 4th Grade: Mrs. Earl Maxon; 5th Grade: Mrs. Harold Rosenberg; 6th Grade: Mrs. W. C. W. Kearns; 7th Grade: Mrs. M. J. Fraser; 8th Grade: Mrs. D. L. Hooks; 9th Grade: Mrs. B. E. Blum; 10th Grade: Mrs. E. Blum.

Practically every one of these appointed room-mothers has accepted their responsibility.

Will Nominate Church Officers

Frank Rozelle, R. W. Sanders and Mrs. J. R. York were named on a committee to nominate new officers of the Methodist church for the coming year at a meeting of the Board of Stewards last Thursday night. B. S. Waring, church chairman, appointed W. L. Kerr and T. L. Burns church ushers for the next three months. A vote was taken to have a new official photograph taken of the church for the new church bulletin. The Rev. and Mrs. T. A. Ferguson were in charge of the business dinner which preceded the business meeting. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Miss, Mrs. Rose Redford and Mrs. J. C. Lucas.

19 Orchids

(By Paul Hardin)

As chairman of the Canal Point drive to raise money for the Red Cross War Fund I want to place the credit for the success of the drive where it belongs. Of course it could not have been successful without the co-operation of those who donated their cash, but, to 15 women in Canal Point now, the credit for soliciting these donations. Orchids to them.

I asked for 15 volunteers to assemble at The Everglades Navy office on Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock. Not 18 but 19 were here when the clock struck nine. After 30 minutes of planning the women started out on the drive. They did a splendid job and most all donations were reported by the middle of the afternoon. So I say they are due a great deal of commendation.

The women who made the Canal Point drive successful are:

Mrs. F. W. Cross, Jr., Mrs. Wm. Davis, Mrs. F. W. Cross, Sr., Mrs. J. S. Harrington, Mrs. Ray Hawk, Mrs. Frank O'Connell, Mrs. Ernest Doud, Mrs. G. P. W. Cross, Mrs. Ruby Tucker, Mrs. Rosalie DeLoach, Mrs. Wade Ammons, Mrs. Alfred Fremd, Mrs. Wm. P. Popp, Mrs. Ralph Mock, Mrs. James Miller, Mrs. Melba Johnson, Mrs. W. P. Jernigan, Mrs. Paul Harlow, Mrs. W. E. Elam.

Army And Navy Tests To Be Given

Army and navy tests will be given all men between 17 and 22 years of age on Friday, April 2 at the Pahokee high school. Dr. D. Caudill will be in charge of the tests. Men desiring to take these must get an admission slip from Mr. Caudill before that date. These particular tests are given in order that men who are about to enter the armed services may be more carefully classified as to their fitness for entering Officers Candidate schools.

Kenny Mock To Enter Training

Kenny Mock who graduated last Monday from the University of Georgia has arrived here for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Mock, before leaving on the first of April for Fort Riley, Kansas, where he will enroll in a three-months' Army Officers' training course. He enters active service in the army with the rank of sergeant.

While at the University of Georgia Kenny was elected president of the State's Athletic Association for two consecutive years and was active in other student affairs.

City Assists Public Library

Representatives of the Pahokee Public Library Board appeared before the City Council last Friday night with a request that the city assume payment of the library's rent for the coming year. The library is the building and lights for the library since its establishment and the library's salary has been paid by the WPA. With the disappearance of the WPA there have been no regular funds available for paying the library and it was probable that the library would be closed unless the city came to the rescue.

The Council also voted a contribution of $100 to the American Red Cross War Fund. It was announced that a special call meeting of the Council would be held on March 26 at 8 o'clock. The arrangements will be made for municipal election to fill the offices of the two councilmen whose terms expire in May.

Pahokee Lions To Sponsor Two Clubs Lake Okeechobee

Moore Haven And Okeechobee To Be Granted Lions Charter

Special attendance problems in the Glades were discussed at the Tuesday luncheon meeting of the Pahokee Lions Club by Miss Elsie Dunbar, travel officer for Palm Beach County schools.

Recognizing the fact that children are often necessary and valuable on the farm and in the packing houses in wartime, the speaker said a schedule should be worked out whereby it would not be necessary for children to miss time in school to do this work. She pointed out that children of school age as a rule cannot do satisfactory work for long hours, that the following schedule should be the best interest of the employers — keep children from school and attempt to work them all day. In conclusion she suggested that "closed" schools be established in each community to place children in after-school jobs and regulate their working hours so that their schooling would not be neglected at the same time make it possible for them to work at maximum efficiency. Miss Dunbar was introduced by Frank Hobbs, a member of the Belle Glade Lions Club.

Browning Roid, zone chairman reported on the progress being made in organizing new Lions Clubs at Moore Haven and Okeechobee. Charter night for Moore Haven will be Tuesday, March 23 and for Okeechobee, March 25. Officers and members of the Belle Glade and Pahokee Lions Clubs, as sponsors of the new clubs, will take part in the charter night ceremonies and the charters will be presented by District Governor Bob Blake of West Palm Beach.

Mr. Roach also announced that zone meeting will be held Sunday afternoon, March 27 at the Washington Hotel in West Palm Beach. The meeting will be held at the Lions Clubs of the Palm Beaches acting as hosts.

Kahns Return From Buying Trip

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Kahn returned to their home in Pahokee over the weekend. Mr. Kahn reported that he was successful in purchasing a great deal of new spring and summer wearing apparel and that some of the merchandise was in Pahokee before his return.

Ed Olsen Plants Flowers To Honor Roll Beauty

Ed Olsen, who operates a nursery on Racoon Point Road, last week set out many new plants around the Service Men's Honor Roll in Pahokee. Members of the Garden in Canal Point, who will be publicly thanked for this splendid gesture. He made no charge for the flowers and furnished labor to get them out.

Pahokee Scouts Have Good Meeting

Some twenty five boys met with the Scoutmaster, Rev. C. A. Moore, last night at the "gym," for another most enthusiastic session.

The Troop now boasts of another First Class Scout, Bobby Vaughn, thanks to his passing the tests in splendid order. J. T. Gray, Rags, Hamilton, John Patton and Murray Weeks are no longer the "ZERO" class, having met the requirements entitling them to advancement into the Tenderfoot division. Because of the increase in attendance, the Troop will be divided into four patrols.

PEACEMAKERS' HEADACHE

Some indication of the difficulties and dangers which await world peace conference attendants when the war is over came out of London this week, with the Polish exile government's demand for restoration of Poland's prewar borders, despite a Russian declaration that any such arrangement would be imperialism and a violation of the principles set forth in the Atlantic Charter.

The dispute centers around territory in Eastern Poland, populated by Ukrainians and White Russians, which was occupied by Russia when Germany invaded Poland in September, 1939. It involves the rights of some 4,000,000 persons of Russian antecedents and lengthens the shadow of one of the cardinal fundamentals — the self-determination of peoples — which figured in much of the discontent preceding the outbreak of the Second World War.

Where the dynamite in all this lies is in the fact that no European border has permanently been in the possession of any one nation. They have been moved at the will of conquerors through the centuries, and all any nation has to do to lay claim to adjoining territory at the peace table is to turn back the pages of history to the period when the area it seeks actually was in its possession. For instance, once the Swedes occupied vast areas of Russia and Prussia; Once the Danes and other Norsemen conquered England; Once the Turks held possession of all the Balkans and, again, something over a century and a half ago, the French occupied the most of Central Europe.

Europe is a crazy quilt of mixed races, which now cannot be, or ever will be separated into ethnical groups. Some form of compromise in this regard must be worked out, before any sort of permanent peace can be established.

Procedure relative to this undertaking combines all the elements essential for the biggest mass headache that peacemakers have known since the world began. — Miami Post.

"FEATHERBEDS"

While the United States is engaged in a fight for its life, the government becomes more and more concerned about a shortage of manpower.

Painters' unions in various cities impose restrictions on the use of sprayguns, in order to slow down the work.

A local of the teamsters' union requires that every truck entering the New York metropolitan area, have a local driver in addition to the driver already employed.

Engineers on the Erie and Erie-Cape May trains work only 10 calendar days a month, for which they receive 48 "basic days" pay.

In various cities the electrical union requires that if any temporary light or power is to be used on a construction job there must be a full-time maintenance electrician who shall not be permitted to do any construction work.

In some cases plumbing unions install prefabricated piping only if the thread is cut off at one end of the pipe and new thread is cut at the job site.

These are typical "featherbed" restrictions. There are many thousands like them. In the present search for manpower nobody is doing anything about them. — New York Times.

CONGRESS'S TWO GLASS HOUSES

The ancient committee system of Congress is visibly breaking down under the unrelenting burdens of total war. Instead of creating a single central committee to coordinate its other committees and to frame a single coherent policy, Congress has been forming new special committees to do what many of its existing committees are already supposed to do. There are increasing jurisdictional disputes among them, just as there are among the administrative agencies.

Some Congressmen are becoming increasingly aware of this. A few days ago, following a squabble concerning the particular committee to which a bill should be referred, Senator Lucas of Illinois rose to demand that he was "disturbed" by the fact that the Senate, while constantly complaining about "bureaus and bureaucrats" performing duplicate functions, was doing the same thing itself. He warned his colleagues, in effect, that they should not throw stones at "bureaucrats" as long as their own house was made of glass.

It is a timely warning. Reform, like charity, must begin at home. Congress must unify its own command first. It must put its own two houses in order before it can hope successfully to tackle the administrative agencies. — New York Times.

JOHN PIERPONT MORGAN

John Pierpont Morgan was more than a great international banker. He was a great American. Banking was a family tradition with him. But his uncanny grasp of national and international affairs raised the House of Morgan to dominance of international finance paralleled only by the Rothschilds or the Medis. He was not the richest man in the world in counted millions. It was his acknowledged ability and acumen that set him up as the greatest financial mind of the age.

By nature retiring, "J. P." took over as head of his firm when his father died in 1913. The next year the First World War broke out to challenge his mettle as the warrior son of his father. He met the test, when his banking firm floated a 500-million-dollar loan for the British and French Commonwealth, the largest ever made to that time in America. From that moment the House of Morgan was supreme in world finance. It became the official purchasing agent for the Allied powers and from 1917 to 1926 the firm loaned close to two billion dollars to them.

In his private life, Morgan was a great student of the English classics and an entire Bible authority. He inherited a fabulous art collection from his father and throughout his life was an outstanding patron of the arts. With his wealth and assured fame, he believed in the simple, homely American ways: "Do your work. Be honest. Keep your word. Help when you can. Be fair."

TOO LATE TO CLASSIFY

by Russell Kay

Tim Sells of Louisville, attorney for the Florida Dry Cleaning and Laundry Board, got out a bulletin to the industry the other day which contained advice as sound and pertinent that it might well have been broadcast to every citizen and taxpayer in Florida.

It had to do with the coming session of the legislature, and I quote it, here as worthy of your earnest and thoughtful consideration. Tim says:

"Within the next 30 days our legislature will convene. They will give 60 days out of their business office and professional life trying to lay down such rules as will make Florida a greater state and better place for us to live.

"During this session, even though its primary purpose should be confined to the formation of only those laws necessary for the winning this war, they will be urged from every side to pass all sorts of trivial and useless legislation.

"They will be lobbied to the point of exhaustion, and they will lose many nights sleep trying to figure their way in and out of the nations. Why? Because we the people want them, within this short period of time, to do everything possible for the good of the county or city in which we live to help old man Jones get a job, give compensation to old John Q. Public's widow, build a road here, erect a building some place else, and do a thousand and one things entirely foreign to the real problems they have to solve.

"Your senators and members of the house want to do just what you want them to do since you are the voting public, but if you happen to be one of the many who kick about the multiplicity of laws on our statute books it might be well to quit, draw a little, then wait and maybe your representatives can really get something done.

"When I say 'quiet down' I mean just for one try giving them a free hand and just for once lay off the usual pressure and let these fine men you have elected to office use their own good judgment.

"I do not mean that old John Q. Voter should remain forever quiet. He should advise and suggest to his legislators, help when called upon, and in every way work with them, but for the sake of our fair state and the generations yet to come, don't worry the life out of them with every petty personal selfish conceivance.

"They're a splendid representative group of men, sacrificing time and money for our welfare, and they should be praised for their service."

Collectively, citizens and taxpayers howl for economy, complain of ever increasing taxes, and take delight in blaming the "so-called politicians" for their plight. But these same purveyors of righteous protest consistently sound and believe the same phrases they so glibly denounce for every man's cost of service. They demand more parks and playgrounds, bigger and better public buildings, pensions for the aged, day nurseries for the offspring of war working mothers, better meals, free school books or what have you, and completely lose sight of the fact that all this calls for more and more money and consequently more and more war taxes.

Chambers of Commerce, civic groups, women's clubs, and countless other organizations concerned only with their own particular needs, meet, discuss, resolve and demand. Committees are appointed to contact legislators and secure their approval and support of this or that particular program.

From time to time sincere legislators, in an effort to fulfill campaign promises, have attempted to eliminate various boards and commissions, curtail some of the many services, to the end that taxes might be reduced, but every industry indignant group have screamed their heads off, such action was condemned and the advocates of such legislation.

"At the coming session, CITIZENS and TAXPAYERS will appeal to legislators for MORE TAXES. They will demand HIGHER MILLAGE rates. EXPENSES, as they press for this or that bill designed to serve some selfish purpose.

And ALL will curse the legislators for their extravagance and denounce the ever-increasing cost of government. . . . Watch and see.

CINEMATIC CHATTER.....

—By MALCOLM MILLAR—

What The Movies Have To Offer During The Coming Week

For the past few weeks the leading magazines of this country have carried pictures and titles of one of the most delightful comedies of this period, and every where you go people have been talking about this comedy—"The Major and The Minor," which stars Ginger Rogers, Ray Milland, Rita Johnson and Robert Benchley. It moves into the Prince for an Owl Show Saturday night and a full day run Sunday.

Here is a refreshing story of a "minor" who looked 12 but acted 21 and who took the Major for a ride, so help him. You see Ginger gets out to win the heart of Ray and in doing so she plays the role of a twelve—and she gets her Man!

Few of us have forgotten the spell work Allen Ladd and Veronica did in "This Gun For Hire" and I am sure we will all look forward to seeing this pair, teamed with Brian Donlevy, and assisted by Benita Gray, Richard Denning, Joseph Calleja and William Bendix, when they move into the city, when they move into the Prince in a mystery story with a punch "The Glass Key." First the story was written by that master of mysteries Dashiell Hammett, second they spared nothing in gathering the cast and last they give it able direction, all of which adds up to a meaty show that the actors sink their teeth into and get the last drop of good out of it.

For the Wednesday-Thursday score you have a mystery and horror picture. "Lon Chaney Jr., who may some day be able to step into the shoes of his father, the immortal Lon of the silent, with Dick Fox and Elyse Knox do the horror pic titled "The Mummy's Tomb." This one is the story of a mummy who comes to life and you'll have to use your Adams apple to keep it from jumping through the shingles on your roof there are so many goose-pimples scenes running through the pic.

The mystery picture stars John Hubbard and Virginia Grey in "Secrets Of The Underground." Of course you gather from the title this is one of those whoddy stories about the enemies agents.

At ease!—Say JAX!
You can't get better beer at any price!

When you want ease, relaxation and the joy of heart-warming companionship, ask for JAX Beer, the golden mellow Drink of Friendship. JAX is made with loving care by master-brewers who have spent a lifetime at their jobs. When such skill and knowledge are combined with choice materials and careful aging you have beer that's absolutely unequalled in quality and flavor. That's why you'll never be disappointed if you say: "Make mine JAX!" You simply can't buy better beer at any price.

JAX BEER

Ask for JAX Jumbo Full Quart Bottle! Jumbo is the friendly way to say JAX because it makes rationing trouble go further—helps preserve a beer shortage.

When you've seen a Jumbo, raise the beer carefully, pour the top lightly and use the refrigerator to keep until you're ready for your next glass of JAX.

If everyone who uses the telephone talked just 30 seconds less on each local call, the aggregate saving in time for our war-busy equipment would be about 7,000,000 minutes each average working day or over 13 years.

That's important time-saving these days when telephone lines are so crowded with calls, including military and government calls that help fight the war.

Won't you try to shorten your local calls—not just 30 seconds—but all that's possible? It will help a lot, too, if you can manage to make fewer local calls.

In saving wear and avoiding breakdown the U. S. Army uses Sinclair lubricants in many "Jeeps", tanks and other vehicles. Your Sinclair Dealer has the same quality lubricants to reduce wear in your car.

To save engine wear he has Sinclair Opaline Motor Oil. Opaline stands up better and lasts longer because it is not only de-waxed, but also de-jellied. Play safe, have your Sinclair Dealer drain and refill your crankcase with Opaline every 1,000 miles.

Will Continue Red Cross Sewing

Members of the Business and Professional Woman's Club after hearing the report of the outstanding success of their Red Cross sewing contest at a meeting at the home of Mrs. Ruth Barron Monday night made plans to have this work continued by the various woman organizations of the community. Each civic and church organization will be asked to pledge itself to the making of a certain number of Red Cross garments each week with officials of the various organizations to assume the responsibility of seeing that the work is done.

Mrs. Pansy Smith, president presided at the business. It was announced that the next meeting would be held at the home of Mrs. Wanda Morgan at which time new officers for the coming year will be nominated.

District Scouts To Meet Next Tuesday

The North Glades District of the Gulf Stream Council of Boy Scouts of America will meet next Tuesday, evening, 8:15 in the school auditorium of the Canal Point School. This will be the first meeting held in 1943, at which time organization of committees will be completed. Plans for the annual finance drive will be discussed at this meeting.

Scouts of Pahokee and Canal Point expecting to come up for awards will be present for this meeting to receive their awards. Rev. S. B. Jordan has served in the capacity of advancement chairman for the district during the current year.

Troop committees of Pahokee and Canal Point Troops are expected to be in attendance at this meeting as are all interested in Scouting in the Canal Point-Pahokee area. The Chairman, J. B. Cox, is expecting a goodly attendance upon this first meeting.

Will Beautify Church Grounds

Members of the First Baptist Woman's Missionary Union at a meeting Monday afternoon made plans for serving a covered-dish dinner to the men of the church when they clean up and beautify the open lot adjoining the church grounds.

Mrs. H. L. Speer, president, presided at the business. Members were urged to make arrangements for attending the quarterly meeting of the Palm-Lake Association in Canal Point next month. Committee chairman were asked to have their quarterly reports ready at the meeting Monday. Mrs. W. A. Stevens was in charge of the devotional. Mrs. Stella Mullis and Mrs. J. C. Mock acted as hostesses in the serving of refreshments.

Churches Plan Joint Revival

The Canal Point Baptist and Methodist Churches have made plans for a Union Revival Meeting beginning March 28th, and continuing until April 11th. The local minister, Rev. S. B. Jordan and Rev. E. S. Donnelly plan to do the preaching and ask for the cooperation and prayers in this community wide revival.

Honor Mrs. Enders With Bridal Shower

Mrs. C. C. Cruthird, Mrs. L. J. Fraser and Miss Nancy Joe Handley entertained at the Woman's Club Friday night with a party and bridal shower in compliment to Mrs. Louis Enders who before her recent marriage was Miss Peggy Joughin.

The clubhouse was decorated for the occasion with a color scheme of red, white and blue. Punch was served to guests at the dinner arrival and later in the evening a chicken salad course with coffee was enjoyed. Mrs. Eugene

McLewin and Mrs. Enders were awarded prizes in contests played. Others attending were Mrs. P. Paul McLewin, Mrs. A. L. Vesten, Mrs. L. G. Alderman, Mrs. J. M. Alderman, Mrs. Sadie Barwick, Mrs. Margaret Joughin, Miss Bobbie Joughin, Mrs. Janet Wells, Mrs. F. L. Fisher, Mrs. Robert Mock, Mrs. Sam Chastain, Mrs. R. G. ## Concert Scheduled Sunday, March 28

The Pahokee High School Band will present another of its series of free concerts in the high school auditorium on Sunday afternoon, March 28, at 3:30 o'clock.

The concert will consist of selections entirely different from those played in previous concerts and two of the numbers will later be played before and judged by one of the Florida Band Masters sometime in April. The judging of the various school bands by the Florida Bandmasters this year will take the place of the annual musical festival at which the school bands have contested for honors in the past.

A complete program of the March 28 concert will be printed in next week's issue of the Everglades News.

NOTICE OF ADOPTION TO WHOM IT MAY CONCERN:

You will please take notice that we will apply to the Judge of the circuit court, Palm Beach county, Florida, at his office at the Court House in West Palm Beach, Florida, at 2:00 o'clock p. m., April 19, 1943 or as soon thereafter as may be heard, for the adoption of Charles Moore, a minor. Any one having any objections will present same to the Court on or before this date.

Puerto Rican And Bahamian Labor To Aid Crop Harvest

Washington Says Either Group Can Be Used In Labor Shortage

WASHINGTON, March 18.—(AP)—The War Relocation Authority, reported Tuesday to Arthur W. Motley, chief of the United States Employment Service.

Cross said it was up to Motley to decide a plan to import Puerto Rican labor, and believed the task would take "some days."

"There seemed to be some confusion among officials as to the purpose of bringing the labor to Florida. One source felt it might be used in mid summer in the cane fields, although another maintained that cane harvesting is at a peak in Florida now and labor after the first or second week in May would not be needed."

Louisiana cane producers have requested Puerto Rican labor for harvesting in the early autumn. It is learned, and apparently the seasonal requirements of the two states are confused.

Cross said no determination has been made whether importation will be directed by the Farm Security administration, now handling the problem, or some other agency. He said his report was not designed to rule out the plan to bring Bahamian labor to South Florida.

"Either one or both of these plans can be adopted," he said.

"I have been reported here that the program to import Bahamian laborers to Florida is 'virtually approved.'"

Officials said here that demands for Puerto Rican labor have been much greater from Louisiana than from Florida.

Patrolman Fired; Was Discourteous

TALLAHASSEE, March 18.—The state cabinet Tuesday discharged Highway Patrolman T. J. Freeman on charges that he treated Mrs. Bayless W. Haynes of Jacksonville discourteously when he arrested her for careless and reckless driving.

Mrs. Haynes testified at a hearing Jan. 26 before the cabinet, sitting as the executive board of the department of public safety, that Freeman "was rude and horrible" to her when he stopped her on the highway and that he took her to the Duval county jail where she was not allowed to put up a $50 check for her bond.

The cabinet acted on the Haynes complaint against Freeman after Director J. F. Gillman of the highway patrol reported that he had dismissed the patrolman last Saturday for a subsequent infraction of regulations.

The board-directed Gillman and Attorney General Tom Watson to draft a regulation requiring officers to handle mere traffic violation charges against "sober and responsible persons" with citations, rather than by taking the offender to jail and turning him over to the sheriff.

Bob Sikes Seeks To Cut Red Tape

WASHINGTON D. C. March 18.—(AP)—A long step in the right direction was taken by Congress recently when a sharp curb was placed on the issuance of questionnaires by governmental bureaus.

Florida's Bob Sikes took a leading part in this red tape cutting move and under the new Federal Reports Act virtually all questionnaires must have the approval of the Budget Director before being distributed.

Advising the public, and particularly the harried business man, to ignore requests for information (in full but a few instances) if the questionnaires do not carry a Budget Bureau number, Sikes points out that in the future the public will not be annoyed with senseless and burdensome demands from bureaucratic busy bodies.

He cautions, however, that tax returns and other information essential to the operation of the Bureau of Internal Revenue do not come under the act which is aimed at the promiscuous demands for non-essential information.

"There is too valuable and manpower to too scarce to waste on complicated forms and red tape must go," Sikes said.

Would Abandon State Primaries

TALLAHASSEE, March 18.—(AP)—The recent suggestion of the Hon. T. T. Thurnbull, former chairman of the State Democratic Committee, and attorney for the State Railroad Commission, that Florida return to convention nomination of party candidates and abandonment of the primaries has brought a storm of protest from all sections of the state.

Press reaction seems to be almost unanimous in opposition to the suggestion. State political leaders are equally antagonistic.

YOUR VOICE COULD STOP A STURK!

Wouldn't you like the thrill of working directly with the Army — of guiding our fighter pilots to annihilate any enemy planes that may come?

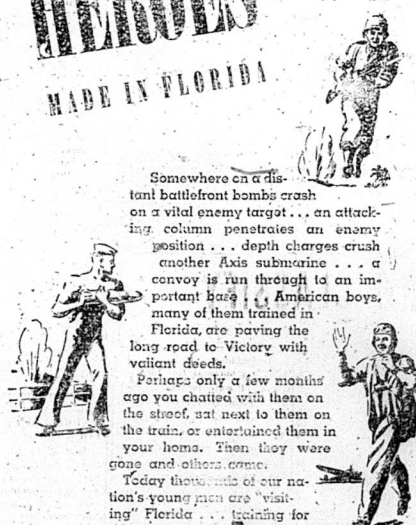

That's the job of civilian "spotters." That's a job you can perform — vital, essential in aiding our Air Forces in the defense of our shores.

On Observation Posts everywhere the Army Air Forces Ground Observer Corps is on guard day and night — reporting, by flash phone calls, the flight of every plane.

Literally, these men and women Observers are the nerve system of our military offense and civil defense. Join in this important work now.

HEROES MADE IN FLORIDA

Somewhere on a distant battlefield bombs crash on a vital enemy target... an attacking column penetrates an enemy position... depth charges crush another Axis submarine... a convoy is run through to an important base... American boys, many of them trained in Florida, are paving the long road to Victory with valiant deeds.

Perhaps only a few months ago you chatted with them on the street, sat next to them on the train, or entertained them in your home. Then they were gone and others came.

Today thousands of our nation's young men are "visiting" Florida... training for this serious business called war. They are riding on our railroad, spending brief weekend leaves in our cities and towns, writing the folks back home impressions of Florida that will linger long after the last gun is fired.

These are the "Heroes of Tomorrow" upon whom the preservation of all that we hold dear depends. May they carry with them pleasant memories of this land of sunshine, palms and flowers to which some day we hope they will return.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Glad we can into you, Judge. I was just trying to tell Helen straight on this business about sugar. I wish you'd tell her what you told me last night down at lodge."

"Glad to, Jim. I told him, Helen, that there's not a single bit of truth to the rumor that the distillers use sugar in making whiskey. They make it exclusively from grain. Only bootleggers use sugar to make whiskey. I read an article in the paper just last week that goes to prove it."

It told how a confessed bootlegger, in a Federal court testified to the fact that another bootlegger, also on trial, had bought a million pounds of sugar a few years ago.

"As a matter of fact, Helen, no distiller is making whiskey today and hasn't for many months. All distillers are working night and day producing war alcohol for the government. And they make every drop of it exclusively from grain, too."

How Indian River Citrus Fruit Helps Build MORE TANKS

Jones felt too ill to work. He was down with one of his frequent colds. After the doctor ordered more citrus fruit and fresh vegetables in his diet he was on the job regularly, week after week, turning out tanks.

And so with millions of the workers in the nation's shipyards and war plants. Every day lost due to illness means fewer guns, tanks, ships, planes and shells at a time when every minute of production counts.

Over the Florida East Coast Railway long trainloads of citrus fruits and fresh vegetables speed north to improve and safeguard the nation's health.

And were it not for the adequate transportation service provided by the Florida East Coast Railway and other railroads these valuable Florida products could not be profitably marketed.

This is but another way in which the railroads today are proving the very "Life-Line of the Nation."
